- the right to access and be provided information about their personal data;
- the right to the rectification of personal data;
- the right to the erasure of personal data;
- the right to the restriction of personal data processing;

PRIVACY TERMS 3/4

- the right to personal data portability;
- the right to object to the processing of personal data;
- the right to the ineffectiveness of automated individual decision-making, including profiling;
- the right to withdraw consent at any time (if consent is the legal basis of processing);
- the right to file a motion to initiate proceedings under Article 100 et seq. of the Personal Data Protection Act with the supervisory authority, i.e. the Office for Personal Data Protection of the Slovak Republic, with its registered office at Hraničná 12, 820 07 Bratislava 27, Slovak Republic, contact details: +421 2 3231 3214, e-mail: statny.dozor@pdp.gov.sk.

Data subjects may exercise the above rights, which are further specified in the provisions of Article 21 et seq. of the Personal Data Protection Act, in accordance with the Personal Data Protection Act and the GDPR as well as other relevant legislation. Data subjects may exercise their rights against the Controller by means of a written request sent or delivered to the Controller's registered office: Trnavské mýto 1, 831 04 Bratislava; or by electronic mail sent to the address: info@verteco.sk.

The request must contain the following information: name, surname, date of birth and permanent address so that the Controller is able to identify the data subject. The Controller may request the provision of additional information necessary to verify the identity of the data subject if he has reasonable doubts as to the identity of the natural person. The Controller is required to provide the data subject with information on the measures taken at his/her request within one (1) month of receipt of the request. In justified cases, with regard to the complexity and the number of requests, the Controller may extend the above period by further two (2) months, even repeatedly. The Controller shall be obliged to inform the data subject about any such extension within one (1) month of receipt of the request, stating the reasons for the extension of the time limit. If the data subject has submitted the request in electronic form, the Controller shall provide the information in electronic form, unless the data subject requested information in any other way. If the Controller fails to take measures at the request of the data subject, he is required to inform the data subject about the reasons for the failure to act within one (1) month of receipt of the request as well as about the possibility to file a motion to initiate proceedings under Article 100 of the Personal Data Protection Act with the Office for Personal Data Protection. Notifications of the measures taken shall be provided free of charge. If the request of the data subject is manifestly unfounded or inappropriate, in particular for its recurrent nature, the Controller may require a reasonable fee taking into account the administrative costs of providing the information, or a reasonable fee taking into account the administrative costs of the notification, or a reasonable fee taking into account the administrative costs of implementing the requested measure, or refuse to act upon the request. The Controller shall prove that the request is unfounded or inappropriate.

Verteco understands that you have rights over your personal information, and takes reasonable steps to allow you to access, correct, amend, delete, port, or limit the use of your personal information. If you are a merchant or a partner, you can update many types of personal information, such as payment or contact information, directly within your account settings. If you are unable to change your personal information within your account settings, or if you are concerned about data collected as you visit Verteco's website or use our support services, please contact us to make the required changes. It's important to remember that if you delete or limit the use of your personal information, the services may not function properly.

COOKIES POLICY

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer or device by the websites that you visit. They are widely used in order to make websites work and to provide information to the owner of the website.

Why do we use cookies?

When someone visits www.ngaviation.com we collect standard internet log information so that we can track visitor behaviour patterns. We do this to find out things like how many people have visited a particular page or how long visitors spend in different parts of the site. This helps us to improve our website and to plan our future work.

We also use cookies to make certain parts of the website work, for instance in order to submit a research project or to use some features, when we need to know who you are. You can delete existing cookies and block new ones from our website – there is more information on this below – but this will mean that parts of the site will not work for you.

How can I delete and block cookies?

Most modern web browsers give you some control over cookies. You can set your web browser to accept or reject all cookies or to accept or reject specific cookies. You may also be able to set your browser to alert you every time a cookie is offered.

You can find out how to control and delete cookies on AboutCookies.org
